VERSATILE HYDROGEN PEROXIDE

or H2O2 is a valuable chemical which occurs naturally in rain and snow, is abundant in the earth's oceans, in fruits, and vegetables... in all that is alive. Water (H2O), when combined with oxygen (O), produces H2O2, the essence of physical life. H2O2's nutritional value was recently brought to light by a Catholic Priest, a retired Post Master and a Doctor of Nutrition. Their message, 'REBELS BATTLE MEDICRATS OVER PEROXIDE FOR IMPROVED HEALTH' was printed in a national newspaper. It created a ground swell of users who speak of relief from arthritic pain, lupus, candidiasis, M.S., plaque, gingivitis, even some cancers and more.

H2O2 is also supported by many medical research reports both old and new. They substantiate fully what these three men call "Gods gift to man."

Pure FOOD GRADE, 35 percent solution Hydrogen Peroxide is distributed by OASIS PUREWATER CO. for $12 a pint. This includes shipping and handling, a dropper, and supporting usage data. We also carry nutritional products and H2O2 research papers and tapes. H2O2 has also proven beneficial for livestock and pets. OASIS, P.O. Box 151287, San Diego, California, 92115. (619)286-9635.

"If a thoroughly malicious sociologist, bent on injuring the Catholic community as much as possible, had been an advisor to the Church, he could hardly have done a better job." (Peter Berger, the most prominent American non-Catholic sociologist of religion, on the consequences of Vatican II)

It is the Will of God that you should silence the ignorant criticism of fools by doing good! (Peter 2, 15) comments: This valuable directory is sent free on request and is the fruit of the charity and dedication of one of the heros in today's remnant Catholic Church. I remember in the mid-70's Professor Jansky personally helping a group of us salvage some beautiful life sized statues in St. Louis and other church and school furnishings for faithful Catholic chapels and locals in Colorado.

POPE PETER II

At the first of the year I learned about a mysterious person in Europe calling himself Pope Peter II. I translated part of a French booklet he alledgedly wrote and mailed it to some friends seeking their reaction and to see if there was anyone with some information on him. What I've learned is that he is most likely the product of an occult ploy to mislead traditional Catholics. There were several clues in the booklet indicating an occult source which I failed to pick out until they were pointed out to me. C'est la vie!

LOOKING FOR A 2nd TRADITIONAL PRIEST

The traditional Catholics in the province of Ontario, Canada are looking for a priest to work with their beloved Father Oliver Oravec. Interested parties may contact: Fred Swart, 107 Limberlost Cres., London, Ontario N6G 2E1. Tele. 1-519-471-1023.

BODY TODDY

I have a limited supply of Body Toddy, a widely distributed and acclaimed milti-mineral supplement out of Oklahoma, which I'm willing to sell at half price: just $10/quart. They tell me it's a good source of trace minerals. My friends Tom Soisson of Texas and Nord Davis of North Carolina have been taking this product and acclaiming its benefits for some time. The Yezzi's (80 and 90 yrs old) in Florence tell me it has helped them. I try to keep them supplied.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

February 5, 1987

Keith & Jane Carrico
11820 South Mage Ct.
Phoenix, AZ 85044

Dear Keith & Jane,

Good to hear from you! I was thrilled to get the photos. I've framed the 8x10 picture and hung it in the back of my chapel. I hope to see you when I'm in Arizona March 13-20. May have stops in Flagstaff, Sun City, and Tucson. I've invited a couple priests (currently "unemployed") to make the trip with me.

The month of January whizzed by so fast -Zoooom!!! But that means it will be staying light till 6:00 p.m. now. I spent a few enjoyable days the middle of the month with old friends in the Houston area. St. Jude's Shrine in Stafford, TX is making professional quality video tapes now. Just before I got there they made a 2½ hour videotape of a mission Fr. Ruscitto from California gave on sin and confession. It was really good! They told me it will soon be available nationwide.

We're working on the March SDCN now. I plan to mail a 6-page supplement with it dealing with the remarkable health benefits becoming known vis-a-vis H2O2 (hydrogen peroxide). I finally replenished my supply of distilled water and have made up a supply of Willards Water and H2O2 solutions which I use regularly.

Colleen Kelly's baby, Billy Joe, 6 months old, is crawling now, and a bundle of joy for all of us around him. We call him Colleen's "Blue Green Manna baby", because of the supplement she used while she was carrying him.

We've had lots of snow this winter. I've been skiing twice. I'd probably go more often if I had someone to go with. The friend I used to ski with and all the kids I used to take on sledding trips have moved away.

One of the more interesting publications coming in these days is SCRIPTURES FOR AMERICA, by Pastor Pete Peters, P.O. Box 766, La Porte, Colo. 80535. I think he probably has about as good an understanding as anyone of how America fits into Bible prophecy and what the Sacred Scriptures indicate is and will be taking place in this country. Some people you run into who know next to nothing about the Bible find it hard to believe that this nation really does play a prominent role in regards to what the Bible teaches about the Last Days. They foolishly think the Old Testament was written for the so-called Jews and that the New Testament deals only with the Catholic Church. I feel sorry for those masses of our contemporaries being taken in by the New Age Movement and who don't have an inkling as to the significance of God's Word: "I shall show you the judgement of the great harlot who sits upon many waters, and upon her forehead a name was written, a mystery, Babylon the Great, the mother of harlots and of the abominations of the earth." (Rev. 17)

WHEN WE GET TO HEAVEN

by Father Joseph Maria,
West Glacier, Montana
from his Easter 1986 Parish Bulletin

Maybe it is only fitting to let the Mother of Jesus speak to us thru Agreda, She, the Mother of Jesus, who stood under the cross to suffer with Him His agonies in a mystical way: But read those lines in deep reflection, one cannot read her words as one reads newspapers or even with a cigarette in one's mouth or the radio blasting. We just have to seek a quiet corner and meditate on each word of Our Lady, otherwise we would only mock God's words spoken thru her.

Speaking on the Resurrection of her Divine Son she says:

"...In order that now thou mayest by the help of thy understanding trace something of the glory of Christ my son, of my own and of the saints, I wish to give thee some rules, by which thou canst pass on from the consideration of the gifts of the glorified body to those of the soul...Thou already knowest that the gifts of the soul are vision, comprehension and fruition, while thou hast already mentioned those of the body as being: clearness, impassibility, subtility and agility.

Each of these gifts are correspondingly augmented in him who in the state of grace performs the least meritorious work, even if it be no more than removing a straw or giving a cup of water for the love of God. For each of the most insignificant works the creature gains an increase of these gifts; an increase of clearness aceeding many times the sunlight and added to its state of blessedness; an increase of impassibility, by which man recedes from human and earthly corruption further than what all created efforts and strength could ever effect in resisting or separating itself from such infirmity or changefulness; an increase of subtility, by which he advances beyond all that could offer resistance and gains new power of penetration; an increase of agility, surpassing all the activity of birds, of winds and all other active creatures, such as fire and the elements tending to their centre. From this increase of the gifts of the body merited by good works thou wilt understand the augmentation of the gifts of the soul; for those of the body are derived from those of the soul and correspond with them.

In the beatific vision each merit secures greater clearness and insight into the divine attributes and perfections than that acquired by all the doctors and enlightened members of the Church. Likewise the gift of apprehension, or possession of the divine Object, is augmented; for the security of the possession of the highest and infinite Good makes the tranquillity and rest of its enjoyment more estimable than if the soul possessd all that is precious and rich, desirable and worthy of attainment in all creation, even if possessed all at one time. Fruition, the third gift of the soul, on account of the love with which man performs the smallest acts, so exalts the degrees of functional love, that the greatest love of men here on earth can never be compared thereto; nor can the delight resulting therefrom ever be compared with all the delights of this mortal life.

Elevate therefore now thy thoughts, my daughter, and from these wonderful rewards, gained by one little deed done for God, consider what shall be the lot of the saints, who for the love of God have performed such heroic and magnificent works, and have suffered such cruel torments and martyrdom as are known in the Church of Christ..."

The Blessed Mother continues to extol the wonderful things ahead of us if we just so much as make a little effort every day to live for God; to offer our whole being to HIM, every heartbeat, every second of our life to the very last and if we do this thru the Queen of Heaven and Earth, the Queen of All Saints, the Queen of the Angels, then we need not fear. The best part is still ahead of us.

Because Satan knows what God has in store for us if we are faithful to HIM, this is why he is raging throughout the world to try to devour all mankind. Satan has achieved to fill the world with all sorts of immoralities, all sorts of things, the evil fashions, entertainments, sports, politics not based on the principles of God, in order to lure us away from God and to bring eternal perdition upon us. It is very clear for any thinking soul in what dangerous times we live.

Anyway, these are a few stray thoughts. So read the words by Our Lady very slow, think about them and make the resolution to never fail HIM nor Her. God knows of our frailties, and we know of His abundant Mercy...God's blessing now once more for a holy Easter, and let's pray that we all will be able to celebrate an eternal Easter in Heaven some day.

THE GREAT TREASON

Faced with grand treason on the part of the ecclesiastics, the defense of the church demands that the laity exert all conceivable efforts to look for faithful priests, in catacombs if necessary, who wish to continue to say the eternal Tridentine Mass. This is being done in many places. We are back to the age of the catacombs, and we must not be afraid of canonical censorship. Pope Pius V said:

"We permit and grant (in perpetuity) that this Missal be used in all Masses... without any scruple of conscience, without incurring any penalty, sentence, or censorship from this day forward, with all freedom and legitimacy, through our apostolic authority, by virtue of this doctrine, etiam perpetuo."

It would be absurd to call schismatic those who, resorting to what Saint Pius V established perpetually in accordance with the standing doctrine of the Church for centuries, continue to celebrate the eternal Mass. It is not we faithful Catholics, but the ecumenists who are schismatics, heretics and apostates.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

THE CHARISMATIC RENEWAL

from Sept. 21, 1986 Parish Bulletin, Most Holy Trinity Church, El Paso, Texas

The late Frank Sheed of Sheed & Ward Publishing Co. and author of many books, made this observation: "The Charismatic Renewal is interested in the Holy Spirit in a sense. But those I have talked to are not really all that interested in the Holy Spirit. They're only interested in what can be done to them through the Spirit. But as to Who He is, and what He is, what His relation is to the Son, what His function is in the plan of God, they've never given a thought. Their primary concern is the stimulation they can get from it."

This is an interesting comment in view of the fact that Dale Vree, a non-Catholic, made a similar observation on Protestantism today in which religion is "sold" or "consumer-oriented" (N.C. Register, June 26, 1983).

Every effort is made "to make people see they NEED and can USE Jesus". In other words, he wrote, it is "geared to naked self-interest and now people are shown what Jesus can do for them in the here-and-now: Do you suffer from emotional problems? Physical ailments? Negative self-esteem? Failure in romance? Financial limitations? Well, if you just believe and pray hard enough, Jesus will solve your every problem. You'll be healthy, popular and successful."

Such a religion is often based on feeling, pure emotion, and leaves neglected the field of Christian virtue -- self-abnegation, poverty, suffering and humility. The cross is really and truly taken out of this type of Christianity. Such Christians are burnt-out fast, because they do not understand that Christianity is about serving God FOR HIMSELF and not using God to benefit ourselves. The distinction is a valid one, and should be used often in examining our consciences.

"CLERGYMEN IN PREVENTIVE MEDICINE" PART II

by Rev. Father Ralph L. Day, Ph.D.;Th.D.;N.D.

The need for a NEW LIFE STYLE is more impertative today than ever. The medical profession, as explained in Part I, SDCN, No. 49, June 1986, pp 17-19 - is almost absolutely dedicated to treating diseases, utilizing dangerous drugs and surgery. The most they go in the subject of Preventive Medicine, is in the utilization of vaccines (poisons injected into the blood stream of human beings) The abuse of drugs at all levels of the social spectrum in the USA and around the World has reached such alarming situation, that it is up to us, Priests, to take - again - the reins of morality, as it was in the beginning of civilization.

Preventive Medicine, according to our concept, does not refer to "vaccination", but to the adopting of a NEW LIFE STYLE which embraces the SPIRITUAL LIFE AND THE PHYSICAL LIFE as well. Keeping in mind that the Body is the Temple of the Holy Spirit, it is up to us Priests to teach how to clean and maintain clean the Temple of the Holy Ghost! It is part of our call following the example of the Great Physician, our Lord and Master JESUS CHRIST OF NAZARETH. We realize that, unfortunately, the effects of malnutrition and its prevention and relief has not yet been totally accepted by the concensus of the medical opinion. Federal Law prohibits to mention the use of HEALTHY FOODS for the treatment of diseases. Nevertheless, it is obvious that where nutritional deficiencies exist their correction is essential to the recovery of the patient. It is also obvious that regardless of the form of other therapy that may be used, the correction of the nutritional deficiencies is a basic and indispensable feature of treatment where it is required.

History clearly mentions how the Catholic Church, through the services of monasteries and convents, kept alive science and arts through the darkest periods of the history of the humanity. I do not need to mention here the background which support our right to work in Preventive Medicine. I will stress directly what Nutrition has to do with Preventive Medicine.

Louis Pasteur, the famous French scientist, established the now well known doctrine that certain bacteria or other micro-organisms known as pathogens are the imediate cause of disease; doctrine to which we do not adhere. From this knowledge developed, for instance the method of destroying the micro-organisms by pasteurization, which is equivalent to the destruction by heat of certain lower forms of life.

Pasteurization is neither a cure for, nor a prevention of disease, but only an expedient way to destroy the disease germs that already exist in foods, particularly milk. Pasteurized products are expected to be consumed promptly for fear that bacteria not destroyed at a temperature of 145 grades Farenheit will multiply and occasionally cause infection.

The public, therefore, has been indoctrinated for ages, that bacteria are the primary cause of disease. The truth is that PRACTICALLY ALL DISEASE IS PRECEEDED BY MALNUTRITION, and that the absence of any one essential element will lead to disease. Malnutrition is followed by disease and often accompanies the progress of disease. A growing number of diseases are frankly and almost universally recognized as resulting from nutritional deficiencies. And many medical doctors, (to the lack of the control of the A.M.A.) prescribe - imitating the Naturopathic Physicians -vitamins and other necessay elements to treat diseases. But of course, in public, they will never say that NUTRITION CAN PREVENT DISEASES, or that NUTRITIONISTS CAN TREAT AND PREVENT DISEASES ALSO.

When the nutritional needs of a person have been inadequate, the various kinds of bacteria that may initiate disease processes under such conditions will be found to differ widely in their toxicity and in their ability to break down the body defenses. Some of these toxins are simply altering the conditons of growth and the environmental factors. Bacteria have a wide range of adaptation that affects their ability to survive in different environments. Nutrition plays an important part in the resistance to infections. Scientists have been almost entirely preoccupied by the concept that bacteria cause disease, rather than by a much more important concept that ADEQUATE NUTRITION CAUSES GOOD HEALTH AND RELATIVE FREEDOM FROM DISEASE. It is certainly, then, more logical to prevent diseases from occuring insofar as this is possible, rather than to concentrate exclusively on ways to repair the damage after it has occurred.

The use of ANTIBIOTICS, drug products from 'molds', or anything that act as a poison to the disease organisms, is, apparently, the hope that it will do no other damage to the host itself. It must be remembered that in these measures there is to begin with, an animal or human body that is often weakened by malnutrition, and therefore favorable to the invasion of the diseased organisms which, as explained before, are called 'pathogens'. Therefore, we have here a situation in which a poorly constituted body, unable to resist the invasion of disease, has introduced into it by vaccination modified forms of the very diseased organism it is calculated to destroy. A bad situation is made worse!

Remove the underlying cause of disease: MALNUTRITION, and it will usually be found that the disease germs cannot exist or propagate in an animal body that is healthy. Germs are never entirely eliminated, only counterbalanced, depressed, or inhibited in their growth and reproduction. GOD HAS CREATED GERMS FOR SOME IMPORTANT REASON. MANY OF THEM ARE NECESSARY, IN THE RIGHT PROPORTION AND EQUILIBRIUM, FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF LIFE, AS HAPPENS WITH THE LACTOBACILLUS IN THE COLON.

BRUCELLOSIS and MASTITIS were studied in Cleveland in 1939, through spectroscopic analytical work, comparing the composition of the blood and the pituitary gland of cows sent to the slaughter as Bangs reactors. This led to the discovery that the diseased animals had less Manganese, Copper, Cobalt, and Zinc than healthy animals. Subsequent developments showed that humans who had Undulant Fever (as a consequence of Brucellosis) responded to the same treatement. In 1948 a battle was raging in Canada because three physicians from Ontario claimed to have found a most effective treatment ever devised in North America for the Number One Killer: HEART DISEASE. The three Canadians physicians were Dr. Evan Shute and Arthur Vogelsang, of London, Ontario, and Dr. Wilfreide Shute of nearly Guelph, consisting of VITAMIN E (D-Alpha-Tochoferol). Vitamin E is the most common of all vitamins--being present in the germ of grains, leafy vegetables, root vegetables, meats. Why, then, if Vitamin E. is so common in nature heart disease were prevalent in human beings? They discovered that the food industry made an almost - systematic effort to remove it from foods; how? Bread, the main staple, yet with the removal of most of the E-carrying germ from white flour. In fruit--apples for example,--it is present in peel and core, which are usually discarded. It appears in the peel of potatoes, which we throw away. Pigs are being feed better than humans! Humans are deficient more in Vitamin E than in any other vitamin. The all prevalent and increasing incidence of dental caries (to the happiness of dentists!) correspond to the increased use of refined and concentrated carbohydrates in the USA diet.

During the past century there has been a general downward in the incidence and mortality rates of infectious diseases, notable tuberculosis, pneumonia, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, rheumatic fever, typhoid fever, and erysipelas; also a similar decline in puerperal and infant deaths; and, during the same period there has been a marked shift in the age incidence of a number of infectious diseases from younger to older groups.

The reasons can be described in the extraordinary influence of NATUROPATHIC MEDICINE and the NUTRITION TEACHINGS of the great pioneers of NATUROPATHY in Europe and America.

There has been a general decline in mortality in the above mentioned diseases for several factors, among which perhaps one of the most important and less known is BETTER NUTRITION and HYGENE. The major change in nutrition has been brought by tremendous increase in the production, distribution and consumption of Vitamin C containing fruits in North America and most of Europe, made possible by the gradual development of better transportation and refrigeration, making possible importation of citric fruits from North Africa, Spain, Israel, Central and South America. The NUTRITIONAL REVOLUTION has, perhaps, been applied more intensively in infancy and childhood than in older age brackets, though for the last 40 years in the USA, thanks to the NATUROPATHIC PROFESSION, Health Food Stores have been able to provide supplements which can complement or replace vitamin and mineral products, which usually can be obtained, without contamination, in the countries of origin. We have yet to reach a large sector of the American people, indoctrinated by the medical profession against sound nutrition as a prevention of diseases, and the FREE use of vitamins, minerals and other natural products. The Journal of the American Medical Association printed in May 1935, (May 20), dedicated a full page of condemnation of CITROCARBONATED as a fraud because it claimed NUTRITIONAL VALUE for its mineral content, which, in fact, is ideal to replace the blood-serum salts depleted by kidney and sweat gland activity. These actions officially closed the doors of orthodox (allopathic) medicine to NUTRITIONAL

THERAPY.

Good nutrition can, and does, PREVENT, LESSEN and HELP heal the chronic deficiency conditions that so plague our society.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

March 14, 1986

Reverend Dear Father Jones,

For over three months now I have been carrying about your letter of the 5th of December last, hoping that I might find some time ora moment to answer it. It's a shame that it should not be until now that I can do so.

Let me first thank you for that nice picture you included, as well as for all the others that you have sent me in the course of the last few years. By now I can almost say that I am quite familiar with the Sangre de Cristo Mountains. So e.g. with the Crestone Needle Peak and the South Colony Lakes, also with the Mountain Valley in spring, as well as with the Music Pass. You must be a lucky man to live where you do, and you look it! And so do all the other ladies in the latest picture you sent me at the occasion of Christmas last. Thank you very much indeed! I am happy too with all the little "tidbits". As e.g. the picture of Saint Theresa with accompanying prayer. I usually pass them on to kids I teach (English), or, rather that I try to teach, for teaching has become increasingly difficult these last ten years or so!

From the delay in answering letters one would conclude that we are all very busy. It's quite clear from your letter that you are, but so are we this side of the ocean. I help a friend who edits a traditional quarterly that is bilingual. Dutch and French. Everything has to be translated from the German, English, or Spanish into Dutch and French. Every page has to be type-written twice and stencilled twice! You will find a copy of the French version included together with a copy of the circular letter I sent to all my relatives after my Mother's decease on the first of January this 1986. The latter for your special instruction as to how to behave in such and similar situations. Many orthodox, traditional Catholics hesitate to stay away from the Novus Ordo masonic rituals, they usually succumb under the pressure exerted by relatives to attend, whereas they should firmly refuse to do so! Well, I have gone through the motions, for it was not an easy thing to do, let me tell you that! Nieces and nephews of mine, however, told me afterwards, that they had appreciated what I thought fit to do, and they respected me for what I had done.

Many thanks for Ursula Oxfort's Bulletin No. 46! Grand indeed! I hope to get in touch with her one of these days.

I had hoped that you would comment on the copy of my letter (of 26th August '85) to Father Francis Leblanc, especially after I found your newsnotes advertised in his "Resurrection" of June '85 (No. 1) Father Leblanc never cared to answer that letter, which I find not a little suspicious. I am afraid that he fosters the cause of the "Vatican II" clique, as so many others do Msgr. Marcel Lefebvre among them in the first place! Could you possibly shed some light on the matter, please? And let me know?!

So far for today, dear Father. I send you my kindest regards and hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,

Yours Very Sincerely in,
Jesus, Mary, and Joseph,

Case Made for Hydrogen Peroxide

EXCLUSIVE TO THE SPOTLIGHT

By Richard R. Willhelm

Some 40 years ago I promised Dr. Harold McCellan, superintendent of the Dayton State Hospital (in Ohio), as I was anointing him on his deathbed, that I would try to get the Catholic Church interested in a bacteriological approach to psychology. In this quest, Dr. Maynard Murray and his famous teacher Dr. Martin Fischer arranged research with Dr. Edward Carl Rosenow, who did basic research at the Mayo Clinic for 62 years, writing more than 450 medical papers, to come down to Longview Hospital in Cincinnati to find the micro-organisms invading the central nervous system.

Rosenow isolated a "neurotropic streptococcus" that invades the central nervous system. His method of killing this invader was to boil the organisms in hydrogen peroxide (H_2O_2) and inject the dead streptococcus back, as an antibody. From that moment on, hydrogen peroxide stood out in my mind as the greatest deterrent to disease.

Rosenow, finding that some 35 illnesses are caused by virus and streptococcus, suggested drinking hydrogen peroxide in a dilute solution, in accordance with Dr. Reginold Holeman's (Cardiff, Wales) experiment of putting a 0.3-percent solution of hydrogen peroxide in the drinking water of cancerous mice. With the mice, this resulted in destroying their tumors in 30 to 60 days.

'GOD'S IMMUNE SYSTEM'

So for the last 30 years plus, I have been preaching the gospel of hydrogen peroxide as the best means of destroying anaerobic micro-organisms with its extra atom of nascent oxygen. I do believe that I lived, breathed, talked and thought "hydrogen peroxide." I have even been labeled "Father Hydrogen Peroxide."

Down through the years we discovered that H_2O_2 is God's own immune system. The ultraviolet light from the sun turns our outer layer of oxygen into ozone (O_3). Coming down through the atmosphere, it turns the moisture, H_2O, into H_2O_2 and rain is loaded with H_2O_2.

Every cell in your body has H_2O_2. Milk is preserved all over the world with H_2O_2. It kills the virus and streptococcus and the milk won't sour.

Los Angeles is building a $125-million plant to ozonize its water.

I've seen and heard thousands of people who were able to rid themselves of a myriad of afflictions by the drinking of hydrogen peroxide. Walter Grotz listened to my preaching, and like St. Paul, has been spreading the epistle of hydrogen peroxide ever since.

Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the famous heart surgeon, testified that his arthritis was eliminated by the drinking of H_2O_2 several times a day.

DOUBTER REVERSAL

Dr. Kurt Donsbach listened to our evangelization of the doctrine of hydrogen peroxide but initially turned away in disbelief. After delving into the literature of hydrogen peroxide he completely reversed himself and now has his patients drinking H_2O_2 and has injected peroxide intravenously into them as well.

He has attained tremendous results with cancer, multiple sclerosis and arthritis patients. So what else could I do but go to Rosarito Beach, Mexico, and observe for myself, the marvelous results of this university professor who has written extensively on every phase of health?

He is awaiting the completion of his 60-bed hospital and wholistic medical center.

In all of my 70 years, I have never met a doctor as enthusiastic about anything as Donsbach is about hydrogen peroxide. Plans for his new clinic call for a chapel that will be named the Father Willhelm Chapel in honor of my many years of dedication to H_2O_2. ●

Hydrogen peroxide one buys at the drug store is about 3 percent. It must be diluted to less than 0.05 percent, according to advocates. Hydrogen peroxide as it comes from the bottle one buys across the counter is for external use only and cannot be drunk.

WHY IS THERE SUFFERING?

(Author Unknown)

1. T.V. polls feature one or several questions to people on the street. What do you think most people would answer if asked: "Why is there suffering?"? Perhaps there would be as many different answers as people who were asked.

2. Suppose they were also asked: "Why did Jesus Christ suffer so much and die upon the Cross?" If Roman Catholics were asked, perhaps they would answer: "To redeem us."?

3. How would YOU answer both questions? Think about it! Look upon your crucifix and see Christ hanging there in the greatest act of obedience the world will ever know, as St. Paul reminds you: "He humbled Himself, becoming obedient unto death, even to the death of the Cross." (Phil. 2:8)

4. You know that the smallest act of love of the Savior was sufficient to redeem us. You know that by reason of the infinite dignity of the person of the Word, one drop of the blood of Jesus Christ would have sufficied to redeem a thousand worlds, did they exist.

5. So here, then, is your first clue: So not look for the motive for the many excusses of the most holy passion and death of Christ in the necessity of redeeming sinful humanity. But, where do you look? The next clue: "For which cause God also hath exalted Him and hath given Him a name which is above all names: that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those that are in heaven, on earth, and under the earth: and that every tongue should confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father." (Phil. 2:9-11). That the answer is found here is more clear if you consider the words of Isaias: "I will not give My glory to another" (Isa. 42:8; 48:11).

6. Here you can see that the essential glory of God, the incommuinicable and essential glory of the adorable Trinity became in the mystery of the Incarnation the magnificent portion of the sacred humanity of Jesus, as the Eagle of the Evangelists says in his prologue: "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we saw His glory, the glory as it were of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth." (John 1:14)

7. The excuses of the sorrow and humiliation of the passion and death of Christ were the compensation demanded by Divine wisdom, which does all things with weight and measure, in exchange for the ineffable glory which the God-man would enjoy eternally. (This does not mean that by His dolorous passion Christ merited the Incarnation; the principle of merrit cannot be merited. But this does mean, as per St. Thomas Aquinas and all Tradition, that Christ thus merited the exaltation of His name.) "I will not give My glory to another." God had spoken through His prophet, and these words were not belied, not even in favor of the incarnate Word, since by His passion and death, Christ not only snatched the entire world from the domination of Satan and death, but in addition, He won for His most sacred humanity the right to be enthroned in the eternal tabernacle, at the right hand of the Father. Christ alluded to the necessity of conquering this right on the evening of His resurrection when He said to the disciples of Emmanus: "O foolish and slow of heart to believe in all things which the prophets have spoken. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and so to enter into His glory?" (Luke 24:26). In fact, the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ is admirable, indescribable, since it is the glory of the only Son of the Father, and as such this glory exceeds the capacity of comprehension of human and angelic intellects; only God Himself can fully appreciate it, since He alone knows Himself perfectly.

8. You can better understand by considering: "He that believeth in Me, as the scripture saith (Deut. 18:15; Joel 2:28), 'Out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.'" (John 7:38). Christ spoke these words to all in a loud voice on the feast of tabernacles. "Now this He said of the Spirit which they should receive, who believed in Him" (John 7:39). To give the Holy Ghost to souls is the glory of the risen Christ, a glory that is unique, ineffable. "For as yet the Spirit was not given, because Jesus was not yet glorified." (John 7:39). The Holy Ghost was to be given on Pentecost when, through the humiliations of His passion and death, the Lord Jesus was to enter into His glory because "he that humbleth himself, shall be exalted" (Luke 18:14).

9. But who has ever humbled himself like the Pontiff of the New Law, Christ our Lord? In truth and justice, no one ever was or ever will be as exalted as was He: "He humbled Himself, becoming obedient unto death, even to the death of the cross. For which cause God also hath exalted Him, and hath given Him a name which is above all names: that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those that are in heaven, on earth, and under the earth: and that every tongue should confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father." (Phil. 2:8-11). "Christ...merited the glory of being exalted, through the lowliness of His passion." (SUMMA THEOLOGICA III, 46, 1). (Note: By His dolorous passion, Christ also manifests to us the excess of His love, even to the folly of the cross. Thus, men are much more enlightened on the gravity of sin and the value of grace which is the seed of eternal life, a participation in the intimate life of God.

10. This is why, during His agony in the Garden, Christ took the chalice and drank to the last drop the ocean of terrible sufferings and death in it. But, why is there suffering for the rest of us? "The disciple is not above the master, nor the servant above his lord." (Matt. 10:24). None of us is greater than our Divine Master. He suffered-how can any of us make any excuse for not suffering? "Jesus said to His disciples: If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself (the pleasures of this world, etc.) and take up his cross (of sufferings), and follow Me." (Matt. 16:24). REAL Roman Catholics claim that they follow Christ. But there is only ONE way for us to follow Christ-by imitating Him, following in His bloody footsteps and in His example of humbly, meekly and patiently carring the cross of sufferings He gives us. "For he that will save his life (by wanting all the comforts of life, having a good time, etc.), shall lose it; and he that shall lose his life (of easy living by carying his cross of sufferings) for My sake (because he loves Me and his neighbor in Me), shall find it." (Matt. 16:25).

11. This throws a special light on Christ's humiliation, the dark night of His passion which is also the night through which saints must pass. By this light you can understand better what St. John of the Cross wrote about concerning the night of the soul and the reparatory sufferings which great servants of God, like St. Paul of the Cross, had to bear. It is a well-known fact that having been raised to the transforming union (State of the Perfect) when he was 31, he spent 45 years in continual and most profound interior sufferings for the salvation of sinners. He was closely configured to Jesus crucified: the depths, the duration, the continuity of his sufferings were proportioned to the "eternal weight of glory" (2 Cor. 4:17) which he was to receive in heaven!

12. But, you say, this was a "saint"! What about me? There are only saints in Heaven! But Christ, in calling you to follow Him, calls you to become a saint! "The kingdom of Heaven suffereth (spiritual) violence, and the violent (who war against their passions and the pleasures of this world and are faithful to their crosses of sufferings) bear it away" (Matt. 11:12). So, then, the degree to which one suffers humbly, meekly and patiently in the imitation of Christ, out of love for God and his neighbvor in God, is that degree to which one shall be exalted in eternal glory! On the Day of Judgement, the Just Judge, Jesus Christ, will place all of your sufferings on one side of the scales of justice; on the other side He will place weights called the "eternal weight of glory" (2 Cor. 4:17). How many of you will have sufferings equal in weight to a feather? How many to one or many mountains? You must do NOW as you would then have wished you would have done now! Suffer humbly, meekly and patiently under your cross because the deeper you are plunged into the depths of the ocean of sufferings, the higher you will be raised to your eternal glory in Heaven, there to adore, praise, and thank God for all eternity for giving you happiness! How true it is that sufferings, borne virtuously, are a sign of predestination! But even in this life, there is a fore-taste of Heaven by suffering quietly, without one word of complaint, which leaves one in a peace that no one can take from you!

IRS 'Handbook'

At certain intervals, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) publishes a new version or edition of its "Handbook for Special Intelligence Agents"*; and, in order to keep pace with these, one must obtain an up-to-date copy from time to time.

This I have done, and can offer one which contains the most useful information now available. I might add that at one time, this was sold for $5; but now the official price has been increased to about $80, presumably to discourage people from attempting to obtain it.

In addition, I have supplied also a table of contents, giving pages and section numbers of those most important for practical use. I have reproduced this on heavy paper (about 400 pages) instead of the very thin material printed on both sides in the formats from the IRS (if you might be lucky enough to obtain one at all).

This work was intended for use only by the special intelligence agents. The interesting point is that it spells out a great many rights which the taxpayer possesses but which an agent normally will not divulge.

In the edition I now offer, among much else, materials are reproduced which explain the following:

1) The statute of limitations for civil and criminal prosecution;

2) The rules and regulations concerning evidence;

3) When and how the burden of proof is on the government;

4) The rules concerning, and the functions of, informers;

5) Procedures the IRS must follow in obtaining bank records;

6) That the taxpayer must be given a receipt for all records surrendered voluntarily; that none may be copied or removed without the taxpayer's consent;

7) Rules which protect the taxpayer when the IRS seeks to examine the contents of safety boxes;

8) The protections provided by the Fourth and Fifth Amendments;

9) The absolute right of taxpayers to take the Fifth Amendment;

10) The right of taxpayers to record interviews with the IRS;

11) The inadmissibility of evidence obtained illegally by the IRS;

12) The restrictions on the use of surveillance;

13) That books and records of taxpayers may be obtained only with their consent;

14) How and when the IRS is required to repeat the Miranda warning;

15) That voluntary statements in such investigations may be used against the taxpayers;

16) How, in a net-worth investigation, the burden of proof is on the IRS to prove income is taxable and not exempt;

17) The most common defenses available to taxpayers in such investigations—which must be conducted by the IRS independently;

18) What constitutes a voluntary waiver of Constitutional rights;

19) That information obtained by the IRS through trickery may not be used;

20) That the taxpayer has an absolute right to counsel;

21) That partnerships and associations have the same rights as individuals;

22) The attorney-client, husband-wife, clergyman-penitent and physician-patient privilege;

23) The rules concerning confessions;

24) How agents must conduct themselves during interviews;

25) That "fishing expeditions" are not permissible;

26) That only one examination may be made of any record for any one year;

27) How records in the hands of third parties are protected;

28) The protections of churches against examination of books and records;

29) That the IRS must pay taxpayers for the expenses incurred by witnesses who testify in any case;

30) That the IRS must pay third parties for the preparation of records;

31) The rules concerning summonses;

32) Restrictions governing under-cover work;

33) The definition of unreasonable searches and seizures;

34) Rules regarding the storage of seized property;

35) That there is no law against telling people to make no return at all;

36) That the statute of limitations means absolute amnesty;

37) What the elements are which constitute conspiracy;

38) The legal defenses against the charge of willfulness;

39) What constitutes government entrapment—which is illegal;

40) A description and definition of what constitutes perjury;

41) How the Constitution limits the powers of the IRS and the courts;

42) Rules governing grand jury hearings;

43) The expert-witness rule;

44) The rights and immunities of corporation officers; and

45) The rules regarding the time and place for audits—which must be convenient for the taxpayer.

I consider that this "Handbook," and the manual "How to Defend Yourself Against the IRS," constitute, in my opinion, the best means obtainable for the protection of taxpayers during audits. ●

"How to Defend Yourself Against the IRS" is available from Citizens Defense Pub., Box 1622, Washington, D.C. 20013. Price includes all supplements issued for three years from date of order. The price is $175.00.

THE SURVIVAL ILLUSION

by Dave Tinnon
From THE ICONOCLAST, PO Box 811, Grants Pass, OR 97526

The "survivalist" is a growing phenomenon in America. It is impossible to know how widespread this movement is because most "survivalists" don't care to publicize what they are doing.

Families and individuals around the country have quietly put aside the necessary provisions for coping with an emergency. Small groups in all our cities have banded together to buy small farms and open land outside the city. Here they stockpile their provisions and plan escape routes from the city for use in an emergency. On a larger scale, communes seeking self-sufficiency have been springing up since the 60's.

Within the survival movement, there are various approaches to the problem of how to survive. There are also varying opinions as to exactly what it is they will have to survive. Take your pick: nuclear holocaust, environmental holocaust, famine, economic collapse, or an apocalypse (the Christian synonym for when a morally degenerate world gets what it deserves).

Any of the above-mentioned inpending dooms seem possible in a world where terrorists may soon have their own atomic weapons (not to imply that most of the governments who have these weapons now aren't terrorist). Most of the world's nations are having a contest to see which will grow the fastest, pollution or the national debt. Speaking of growing, ranchers and farmers face a growing economic imbalance which makes it increasingly less profitable to grow anything.

If you are starting to sympathize with the survivalist's philosophy of "hope for the best and prepare for the worst," you may want to start your own survival scenario. At this point you should look at the requirements for moral survival as well as physical survival. Why moral survival? Here's a good example.

While I was writing this article, the radio station was carrying a story about a burglary. Two men entered a home, held the residents at gun-point and ransacked the house. As a result of the incident, one of the residents died. Now, the criminals didn't shoot or stab the man or beat him. The victim died from his own response to the situation-a heart attack. If this man had possessed the simple understanding of how to let his emotional response pass without upsetting him, he could have survived.

How would you respond in the face of danger?

Can you meet a threat effectively? If you stock up on all the essentials for emergency survival and a catastrophe does strike, what good will all your preparations be if you die from the fright or the wrong decision made in panic? How much pressure will it take to shatter your survival illusion?

It is crucial to your survival that you be able to see your own fear, anger, resentment and panic. If you can't deal with these things within yourself, how can you expect to deal with the situations that will provoke them? You must have an inside objectivity in order to survive under stress--or in the case of the survivalist--to survive under fire.

If you apply a little common sense in examining the military, environmental, financial and social fuels for disaster, you'll find they have a common moral origin. The problems, no matter how large, begin with the individual. The solution, likewise, is moral in origin and must begin with the individual. Unless there are enough sensible, moral people working together to avert calamity, a moral minority will have to prepare for the inevitable apocalypse.

CITIZENS OF AMERICA
YOU MUST KNOW . . .

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN FRAUDULENTLY COLLECTING THE INCOME TAX SINCE 1913. The 16th Amendment which purported to authorize the government to collect an income tax was NEVER properly ratified in 1913... and NEVER became a part of the U.S. Constitution. Bill Benson obtained certified documents from all 48 states and Washington, DC that PROVES the 16th Amendment FRAUD!!

Between 1941 and 1986, this country witnessed a drastic change in the way the federal government administered the internal revenue laws. The income tax has enabled the federal government to convert this country from the richest nation on earth to a debtor nation bankrupt in every sense of the word. Unborn generations will have to pay for this folly unless the American public wakes up before it is too late.

The INCOME TAX is the brain child of Karl Marx. A progressive, graduated income tax is the second plank of the Communist Manifesto!

The administration for collecting the income tax violates the 1st, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 9th and 10th Amendments to the United States Constitution.

In framing the Constitution our forefathers included TWO limitations that absolutely forbid the federal government to impose any direct tax upon natural individuals, or their property. (Art I, Sec 2, Cl 3 and Art I, Sec 9, Cl 4). They have NEVER been repealed or amended. The Constitution IS the SUPREME Law of the Land, and ALL Laws shall be made in Pursuance thereof. (Art VI)

The personal income tax isn't at all necessary to finance our government. Government could be financed as it was prior to 1913. We can completely finance our government with legitimate, Constitutional excise taxes. If more is needed, it could be apportioned to the states as provided for in the Constitution.

IF THERE WERE NO INCOME TAX, it would mean that billions in tax shelters could be invested in production, creating an explosion of new jobs. There would be funds available for new plants and equipment, farms, new business opportunities -- at much lower interest rates.

Billions spent on collecting income taxes would be saved. The IRS itself could be abolished, along with the fear and oppression generated by this agency. No more outrageous invasions of privacy.

CITIZENS OF AMERICA! YOU have the power to nullify the fraudulent income tax amendment. YOU can end the income tax as it exists today by simply refusing to indict anyone of income tax crimes when sitting as grand jurors and by refusing to convict anyone charged with income tax crimes when you sit as trial jurors.

We MUST control the grand juries and trial juries to make our govt. obey the law.

WE THE PEOPLE can restore our power and authority as Jurors, which in turn can restore our PRIVACY, FREEDOM and LIBERTY. WE CAN - IF YOU WILL JOIN US!!

So if you have the means and are so inclined, make your preparations for survival now, while you still have the time and supplies are available. While you're making your plans, you had better put emotional preparation at the top of the list. Without this one survival skill, the rest of your list is worthless. It won't even take a holocaust to do you in. The normal stress of everyday existence will be more than enough.

Learn to face the problems you have inside and you will be prepared to survive any holocaust you may face on the outside.

U.S., USSR Using Tesla Info

By George Millett

Nikola Tesla, once an obscure Croatian-born American electrician and little-publicized inventor, who lived from 1856-1943, can be credited with providing the Soviet Union and the United States with the basic technology for producing what may turn out to be the "ultimate" weapons of war.

Advances in electronics have provided radar systems, robotics and remote controlled weapons of great variety.

Going another step further, we find that the superpowers are using Tesla's technology to wage electromagnetic warfare.

TESLA'S MASTERPIECE

Consider the Tesla magnifying transmitter (TMT), his most important invention. With his early experiments with the TMT Tesla generated electrical "pressures," as he called them, of 4 million volts and caused sparks to leap through the air for 16 feet in his New York City laboratory in the 1890s. But for Tesla, this was almost like a kindergarten exercise.

He wanted something bigger so he proceeded to set up a huge laboratory in the Rocky Mountains near Colorado Springs, Colorado, in 1899. There he enlarged the TMT to produce artificial lightning bolts of great magnitude and to transmit energy through great distances without wires.

He said it was feasible to use a resonant transmitter and operate it on any given frequency of the electromagnetic spectrum from a few to many thousands of cycles per second and that it could be used for the production of currents of tremendous volume and moderate pressures, as well as for smaller amperages and immense waves of electromagnetic force.

Tesla said the TMT "would be highly efficient and effective in wireless transmission of energy." Furthermore, distance would be no problem because there would be no diminishing of the intensity of the transmitted impulses. It would even be possible to increase their intensity with distance from the transmitter.

He was satisfied with his Colorado experiments.

Back to New York he went in 1900 with his dreams for the peaceful use of his inventions. He would give the entire world the benefit of his discoveries. He summoned some financial backing and by 1903 had completed a tower on Long Island for the wireless transmission of energy. It was 187 feet high with a dome-like antenna on top. This was the beginning of what he intended to be a world system of wireless transmission of free energy.

BANKERS PULL OUT

Faced with a contraption that threatened the stability of the electrical monopoly, Tesla's banker friends must have panicked. They withdrew their support and the project failed.

The tower was destroyed in 1917 and the TMT faded from the memory of western scientists and industrialists.

It was almost entirely forgotten and disregarded until rumors and reports began to surface from the Soviet Union that the Soviets were using Tesla's inventions to control weather by deflecting the jet stream and other means, and that they were altering human emotional patterns and otherwise modifying human behavior by tinkering with brain waves.

Since 1976 they have been jamming radio broadcasts by rapid oscillations creating the "woodpecker effect," which drowns out all broadcasting on their selected frequencies.

It is also well known that they have bombarded the American Embassy in Moscow with microwaves in an attempt to eavesdrop on activities there.

Knowledge of this new kind of warfare being waged by the superpowers is slowly coming to the attention of the American public.

Some western scientists are, at last, investigating the effects of extremely low frequencies on the environment and human beings.

The U.S. Navy released a report in 1982, after seven years of research, that extremely low frequency radio signals being generated somewhere in the USSR are psychoactive—that is, capable of interfering with normal human behavioral patterns. ●

Feast of St. Luke

Dear Father Jones,

Thank you for your letter of September 10th and also for the last issue of SANGRE DE CHRISTO NEWSNOTES.

I have been very ill since the end of June and can only write briefly since my heart is irreparably damaged. My doctors advised me to have a pace-maker implanted which happened in a kind of a hurry. I had only one hour of deliberation to decide whether or not I would submit to this procedure. Since I was so dizzy that day that I could no longer function I decided to go back to the hospital for this surgical procedure. Yet, I am disappointed with the outcome of all of it. I can't seem to recover to return to a fairly active life again.

I am happy to know of your precious service to the Lord and traditional Catholics in Canada. I was offered the Blessed Eucharist while in the hospital by an Irish priest who went around telling Catholc patients that female "ministers" were coming around to adminster Holy Communion. Of course I declined, reminding this priest of St. Paul's admonition to "hold fast to the traditions." He snapped back that I was "more Catholic than the Pope," to which I replied, "I surely am!"

How much further can the conciliar church sink into modernist nonsense? How honest priests can sollaborate with it and accept any idiocy, no matter how blasphemous and degrading it may be to our Holy Faith, is beyond me.

Yes, we surely are living within the time of the Great Apostasy. The great lie of Vatican II is still believed by the Church so that St. Paul's prophecy is literally fulfilled, namely, "for this cause God shall send them the operation of error to believe lying" (2 Thess. 2:10). As a dear traditional priest from Arkansas just wrote me, the devils "favorite disguise may be that of the Holy Ghost." The same priest kindly sent me Fr. Saenz monumental accusation against Paul VI, just published by Dr. Lucidi. Somewhere in the pages of this book the Mexican Jesuit calls Paul VI "the Antichrist." In this there is perfect agreement with the renowned French theologian, the Abbé de Nantes whom he quotes at the center of this book as saying:

> Should the Pope be a heretic
> there is no need to quit the Church, > which is not his work, or any man's work.
> It is necessary to remove him. (p. 339)

These four lines seem to sum up the present problem concisely. Significantly, they also appear in the Index of the book. This brings me back to your remark that we are living at the time of the Great Apostasy. Unfortunately, some traditional writers speak of a "total apostasy," which is not possible since it would wipe out His Church as well as Hisdivine promise that the gates of hell and the devils, coming in the guise of the Holy Ghost, will not prevail against her.

There is another problem pertaining to the pope-heretics of Vatican II which I should like to bring to your attention because it is the major obstacle in unmasking the heretic work of this monstrous Council. This problem presents itself conspicuously in an article titled HERESY, which appeared in THE REMNANT (June 5, 1986). Its author, M. Davies, the supreme spiritual director of the editor of THE REMNANT, contends that "there is no case whatsoever for considering the present Pope or any of his conciliar predecessors to be heretics." His error is simply this: according to his "unimpeachable theological research" a person must doubt or deny a doctrine that is "de fide divina et catholica" and which "has been infallibly declared by the Church to be revealed by God." In other words, according to M. Davies the term "heresy" cannot be applied to non-dogmatic error, which is utterly false as I showed in chapter II, a of my book POPE JOHN'S REVOLUTION. In this book (which Mr. Davies persistently ignores) I quoted the authority of St. Augus the bishop of Hippo who states that "a heretic is one who... creates or follows false and new opinions for the sake of temporal gain or personal glory and prestige." Moreover, I pointed out in this chapter, quoting the Brailian scholar Dr. X. da Silveira, that the "widely disseminated" opinion among Catholics, namely, that "only a proposition which opposes a dogma solemnly defined by the Church - such as that of pontifical infallibility or the Immaculate Conception - is heretical." The Brazilian scholar emphasises that "according to the unanimous opinion of the theologians, heresy is not only the denial of a truth revealed and solemly defined by also the denial of a truth revealed and proposed as such by the ordinary and universal Magisterium" (id. p.6).

Yet Mr. Davies gives a different norm with regard to the term "heresy." Ignoring the most renouned theologians of our time, who openly accused Paul VI (inter alia) of the crime of heresy, the British lay-man maintains that "if a doctrine is not'de fide divina et catholica,'a person is not a heretic for denying or doubting it, though such a denial may be a grave sin (THE REMNANT, June 15, 1986).

NOw, it is significant for the acts of VAtican II that doctrines "de fide" (e.g. transubstantiation, Immaculate Conception) are repeated rather than denied. According to Davies, then, Pope John's declaration of PACEM IN TERRIS, namely, that Communism is no longer "intrinsically evil," but is "of equal natural dignity" with other political systems (par. 89) is not a heresy, but merely a "sin." Equally all the traitor priests who are putting into action the subversive social doctrines of PACEM IN TERRIS and POPULORUM Progressio are not heretics when inciting the poor people of Central and South AMerica to armed insurrection against anti-Communist governments.

I don't believe that THE REMNANT is serving our nation when exonerating the treasonous work of the conciliar Marxist missionaries, who undoubtedly are apostates for they have embraced the most vicious, satanic antichristian ideology that ever militated against Christ and His Church. A Pope who embraces rather than condemns satanic Communism must be a traitor, a heretic and an Antichrist. Who could doubt it?

It is precisely because the vast readership of THE REMNANT are misled into accepting the authority of Vatican II and its traitor popes that no progress can be made in halting thedevastation of Holy Church and the betrayal of one country after another into atheistic Communism.

VAtican II, no doubt, is the greatest threat to our national security, since its treasonous social doctrines are presented to the AMerican people by men who are claiming to be representatives of Christ, while in fact that turned antichrist.

How can this terrible situation be remedied?

October 21, Feast of St. Ursula

Reading my Missal this morning I realized that today is the feast of my patron saint, St. Ursula which only Fr. Francis Daugherty, when working here, used to remember.

I had to interrupt the letter I started above and, while resting on the couch, occupied myself with the text of a large treatise on Fatima.., written by Br. Michael of the Holy Trinity of the French CRC. I find several very questionable statements in it. The Brother admits that we are living at the time of the Great Apostasy and the Church's severest crisis. Yet he hopes that a consecration of Russia to the Immaculate Heart of Mary will still lead to Russia's conversion and to a Catholic restauration. According to my knowledge, (and to the teaching of the Fathers of the Church) the final persecution or crisis of the Church is followed by the last and glorious judgment of the Lord. If we are living in the end times, as Sister Lucy repeatedly stated (and there is cogent proof of it), then the final judgment is imminent, not an era of peace, as Br. Michael and the editors of THE Fatima Crusader of Constable, NY, so ardently seem to hope for.

What do you think on that question? To what should Russia now be converted to? To the conciliar lawlessness and chaos? By a pope, JPII, according to whose teachings "All men are united to Christ"(Redemptor Hominis) and therefore don't need conversion?

There is much to write about. Trusting in the help of our dear Carmelite Saints, whose feasts are celebrated in this month of October, I am,

See page 18 for Editor's reply.

Sincerely in Christ yours,

Ursula

Editors reply: It was a real treat to hear from you again! I think you obviously have a good sense of and a knowledge of our Holy Faith. Sorry to hear about your heart problems. A cross God is letting you bear for a good reason surely. Two good foods for nourishing and strengthening the heart are hawthorne berries and cayenne pepper, available at most health food stores. Ezechial 38-39, which prophecy looks to be shaping up before the year 2000, fortells of an era of peace that seems to correspond to the one mentioned in the 2nd part of the FATIMA secret.

Open Eyes See Aquino as Tool for Communist World Revolution

Seeing President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines on NBC's program Meet The Press Feb. 9 confirmed my worst suspicions.

First, the vicious campaign against our anti-communist ally in the Philippines that preceded the elections was a sad reminder of the fact that our media has learned absolutely nothing from the catastrophic mistake of the Vietnam War. Now as then an evil universal revolutionary power is set to overthrow any anti-Communist government which sustains U.S. imperialism.

What is at stake in the Philippines is not democracy as the media would have us believe. What is at stake, quite obviously, is this: Is the United States allowed to continue to hold a strong anti-communist position by means of its invaluable strategic naval and air bases in Southeast Asia? The very fact that Corazon Aquino wants these bases removed from her country should be an alarm signal to all who have their eyes open to see that she is a tool of the communist world revolution.

Of course, she ran in the name of democracy, justice, liberty and the rest. So did the Sandinistas in Nicaragua seven years ago. The communists never show their true face till they have seized power.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

September 2, 1986

Dear and Rev. Father;

I am going to confine this letter to just one subject. Enclosed is a clipping from the Aug. 31, issue of OUR SUNDAY VISITOR. The column that I took the clipping from is called ASK ME A QUESTION by Fr. Frank Sheedy whose address is P.O. Box 19113 Tampa, Fl. 33686.

I intend to write him a protest, but I will not use this or any letterhead, and since I understand the Roman Church keeps lifelong records now in a central computor I will use my baptismal name PAUL. The reason is that he would simply attack me, as he did you, if he could identify me as another Trad. Priest.

My letter may never see print as I intend to ask him very pointed questions that would be embarrassing to the Conciliar Church. It is my humble opinion that you should refute this scurrilous attack in your own periodical and give your readers his name and mailing address so that he can get a more balanced understanding of the true Catholic mind.

I am also sending to him a copy of the wonderful brochure WHY THE TRADITIONAL LATIN MASS? WHY NOT THE NEW published by the St. Thomas Aquinas Seminary in Ridgefield, Conn.

We must pray for Fr. Sheedy that he might stop the attacks on Traditionalists, especially the Clergy. The scripture warns, "Touch not mine annointed ones."

I trust this finds you well, happy and with many of the blessings of our Father in Heaven. As ever, I remain.

Yours in Jesus, Mary and Joseph,
Rev. Dr. Glenn Jensen NMD, DCM, Psy.D.

Q. Someone sent me a copy of "Sangre de Christo Newsletter." Do you know anything about this group? — Name withheld, Denver, Colo.

A. This is a schismatic and possible heretical group of former Catholics who rejected Vatican Council II and which calls itself "traditionalist." The group is headquartered in Westcliffe, but also holds traditionalist services in Pueblo and Durango. The priest who leads the group seems in sentiment to be very close to Old Catholics who fell away from the Church because they could not accept Vatican Council I, and then fell into other errors.

My God, I give Thee thanks for what Thou givest, and for what Thou takest away; Thy will be done.

My God, make us to be of one mind in the truth and of one heart in charity.

Thy will be done!

Deliver me, Lord Jesus Christ, from all my iniquities and from every evil, make me ever hold fast to Thy commandments and never allow me to be separated from Thee.
